Brookhart's Win Interpreted As Corn Belt Revolt

Senator Cummins' Defeat In Iowa Senatorial Primary Victory For Insurgency—Another Defeat For Administration on World Court Issue.

Washington, June 8.—The "corn belt revolt" against the Coolidge administration is a fact, and not a theory.

This was the interpretation which political leaders of all faiths placed here today on the decisive defeat administered to Senator Albert B. Cummins by Col. Smith W. Brookhart in Iowa's senatorial primary.

Brookhart's victory was a triumph for flaming insurgency. That a man who denounced Coolidge policies from every platform in Iowa, and a man who a year ago was read out of the party with White House approval, could be nominated in so rock-ridden a Republican state as Iowa, gave the capital the nearest approach to a real political sensation it has had in three years that Calvin Coolidge has been president.

Wherever politicians gathered today the Iowa turnover was the sole topic of conversation, and it started a train of speculation in Republican quarters that for the first time contained an element of serious doubt as to the ability of the Coolidge Administration to retain its hold on the country against 1928.

So keen a political observer as Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, summarized it thus:

"The Brookhart nomination is perhaps the most significant political event that has happened this year, or in recent years."

Political Revolution.

"Senator Cummins was highly respected by everybody who knew him. He was a man of recognized ability, and only a real political revolution could have defeated him."

"Brookhart's victory is a pretty strong symptom that the revolution is here."

The Republican stalwarts, of whom Cummins was one, and who had with considerable glee expelled Brookhart from the party and, later from the senate itself, were simply agitated at the Iowa result. None of them had anticipated such a decisive insurgent victory.

The insurgents were, of course, overjoyed. To them, the victory of Brookhart came as a vindication and an endorsement of their own political insurgency against the "White House," and they gleefully proclaimed today that this was a salutary warning to the conservative "Republican leadership of the east that the west is in real revolt."

The Democrats were no less overjoyed than the Republican insurgents. To them, the defeat of Cummins signified that the tide of public opinion is beginning to roll fast and furious against "Coolidgeism," and they are now viewing their own chances in 1928 through the rosiest spectacles they have worn since the great holocaust of 1924. They pointed out that the administration defeat in Iowa is but the latest, though the most convincing link, in the chain of evidence that "Coolidge popularity" is on the wane.

Democrats Expect Another Seat.

They cited McKinley's defeat in Illinois, Pepper's defeat in Pennsylvania, Stanford's defeat in Oregon, as similar links in the chain, and they pointed also to the fact the Republicans of Indiana renominated Senators Watson and Robinson only on a platform that contained several direct slaps at Coolidge policies.

In the first flush of enthusiasm over the administration's defeat, the Democrats were inclined to claim, too, that they will win another seat on Iowa this year. They now have one, their first in half a century. In Daniel F. Steck, who was seated by the votes of administration Republicans as a rebuke to Brookhart, and in the Republican split in Iowa, the Democrats now see a golden opportunity for another.

Incidentally, the passing of Cummins marks another defeat for the administration on the World Court issue, for Brookhart was anti-Court, and Cummins voted for it. In every Republican primary where the court has been an issue, a majority has now been returned against it.

Many Bids for Federal Buildings

Representatives of Many Cities File Formal Applications For Allocation of Public Buildings Under Construction Program.

Washington, June 8.—A grand rush to get in on the government's $165,000,000 building program began here today.

Led by senators and congressmen, representatives of many cities and towns filed their formal applications at the supervising architect's office for allocation of public buildings under the construction program announced today.

Seventeen additional cities, for which public buildings already have been authorized, but no appropriations made, were put on the immediate construction program, as the big rush began.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Charles S. Dewey said the government contemplates having most of these as well as allocations previously announced, under construction next year.

The Building Commission, headed by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Postmaster General New, is preparing for submission to congress within a few days of a request for sufficient funds to conduct a national survey of building needs.

Experts will be sent to confer with local officials, business men and commercial bodies. Already many cities through their congressional representatives or commercial organizations have submitted economic data showing their requirements for additional federal buildings.

About 150 architects will be added to the treasury staff to begin drafting plans for the many structures to be erected. Architects and other technical experts will be included on the committees which will hold hearings in the various cities as to building needs.

The supervising architect's office has under study former recommendations as to building construction as well as a large number of individual bills which were introduced in the house, but consolidated under the general program. Officials said that virtually all cities mentioned in these bills would "be taken care of" in the new program.

Premature Blast Kills Six Men

Hagerstown, Md., June 8.—Six men were killed and six others seriously injured in a premature explosion of dynamite late yesterday in the sand quarry of the Berkley Springs Glass and Sand Company, about seventeen miles from here, it was learned today.

The dead and injured were brought to the Washington County Hospital here early this morning.

The entire hillside on which the big quarry is located was torn away by the force of the explosion, precipitating a landslide which buried the dead and injured and made rescue work difficult.

The dead—Oliver Moon, Irvin Henry, George Wells, Romanis Dawson, Emory Miller, and George W. Miller.

Elder Widemyer, mine boss, is in a critical condition.

Five of the six killed were married, and several leave large families. George Miller leaves a bride of a week.

Company and county authorities are investigating the cause of the premature blast.

Change Charge Against Woman

The charge of reckless driving preferred by the police against Mrs. Nina Manos some time ago was withdrawn in police court before Judge Shusteldt this morning and a charge of manslaughter substituted, and the hearing adjourned to Friday morning. Bail was fixed at $1,500. Mrs. Manos is represented by Judge Harry E. Schrick.

Her arrest followed a fatal auto crash on the Strand some time ago in which John Herring of Ulster Park received injuries which caused his death recently at the Kingston City Hospital.

Mrs. Manos is accused of getting into a Dodge truck and starting the engine running. The truck backed into the Ford truck of Mr. Herring, parked behind it, and Mr. Herring was knocked down and injured. The Dodge truck then collided with another car, damaging that.

Drifted For Five Days.

Halifax, N. S., June 8.—For five days Daniel P. Warren, member of the crew of the Gloucester, Mass., fishing schooner "Commanawash," drifted alone in an open boat. He came ashore, finally, at Drummond, Guysboro county, N. S., and today was under the care of a physician.

Robinson Buys Five Bunches.

C. Robinson, the Fair street jeweler, has purchased the Clarence T. Pross property at Hurley. This is one of the most modern developments in Ulster county on the Main street. The sale was made by Frank Duffon, real estate broker of 23 Johnson avenue.

Farm Bloc Drive For Dawes Plan

Bloc Leaders With Support of Vice President Dawes Hopeful of Getting Vote in Senate This Week—Terms of Proposed Relief Bill.

Washington, June 8.—In the face of White House coolness, the farm bloc drive for enactment of the new "Dawes Plan" of agriculture relief moved forward today with the senate opening debate on amendments to the McNary-Haugen crop export bill.

The "economically sound" plan, sponsored by Vice President Dawes, came under direct consideration when Senator McNary, Republican, of Oregon proposed amendments revising his original bill. The amendments would carry out the Dawes plan of creating a $175,000,000 export corporation for selling surplus crops abroad, with the farmers financing it through an equalization fee payable as they market their crops.

With the vice president supporting their demand for farm relief, the bloc leaders were hopeful of getting a vote in the senate this week. They will support the "Dawes Plan" over all other forms of relief.

"This is no longer a farmers' fight," observed Senator Gooding, Republican, of Idaho, a bloc leader. "The vice president, bankers and business men have joined us in urging farm relief legislation."

The terms of the proposed relief bill, Gooding added, have been much discussed, often denounced but are not generally understood. Briefly the bill, he said, would:

1. Create a farmer's corporation to sell surplus crops in wheat, corn, oats and cotton abroad; thus;

2. Raising American market prices on farm products to the level of the American tariff wall; and

3. Farmers paying for the cost of operating the export corporation by an equalization fee levied on every bushel of grain sold in America.

The plan would include livestock, Gooding said, but its principal benefits would apply to the wheat, corn and cotton crops. The export corporation would be managed by a board of twelve members, to be appointed by the president, one for each Federal reserve district. Farmers or organizations would nominate three men from each district and the president would have to select the board from this list.

As a practical instance of the operation of the "Dawes plan," Gooding said, it probably would increase the price paid farmers for their wheat crops about 35 cents a bushel.

SPAIN AND URUGUAY THREATEN TO RESIGN.

Geneva, June 8.—Threats on the part of Spain and Uruguay to resign from the League of Nations have caused a great stir in League circles here.

League officials point out that resignations, under the terms of the covenant, can only become effective two years after they are announced.

Private conferences are now in progress to attempt to find some way whereby the resignations of Spain, Brazil and Uruguay may be avoided. The Spanish and Brazilian demands for permanent seats in the League Council as preliminaries to Germany's entrance to the League are most difficult to deal with, and it is possible that the authorities will have to reach a decision to let Spain, Brazil and Uruguay leave the League rather than risk Germany's non-entrance.

FOUR JURORS NEEDED TO TRY ALLEGED SLAYERS.

Boston, June 8.—Selection of the remaining four jurors to fill the panel to try the three youthful alleged slayers of Patrolman Frank J. Comeau was under way in Superior Court today.

Stanley Toothaker, John Robert Sambursky and Albert Deshon, the accused, followed closely the examination of jurors.

William Combs, 67, the ninth juror, was relieved from duty because of his plea that he had overestimated his strength in accepting service.

Cincinnati, O., June 8.—Peter C. Jewerski, former mayor of Hans, Frank, Mich. and Max Wosinski, commissioner of public safety in the Jewewski administration, must serve two years each in Fort Leavenworth Prison for conspiring to violate the prohibition laws in 1924, the United States Circuit court of appeals here ruled today.

Accused in Dry Raid.

Tony, Senior Hospital Patient, Is Most Cheerful

Man Without Living Relatives Has Been Hospital Patient Twelve Years, Suffering From Broken Back and Injured Spinal Cord—What He Has Done for Hospital.

Man Without Living Relatives Has Been Hospital Patient Twelve Years, Suffering From Broken Back and Injured Spinal Cord—What He Has Done for Hospital.

If you were to ask who is the most cheerful person in all Kingston and expect the answer to be someone in radiant health and with a full possession of friends, relatives and worldly goods, you would be very much mistaken.

That is, you would be if you are willing to accept the opinion of the Kingston City Hospital in this matter, because their choice of this person is Anthony Roncevic, who has been a patient in the hospital for a span of twelve long years.

Tony, as he is known by everybody, is the senior patient of the hospital, having outstayed all others. He comes from the far land of old Austria, and from that part of it now known as Jugoslavia. All of his relatives are dead, with the possible exception of one sister who was caught in the maelstrom of new Europe, leaving behind no trace or word.

Tony has a broken back and an injured spinal cord, and the doctors are afraid that he will be confined to a bed and a wheel-chair for the rest of his life. Yet Tony remains good natured, so much so that he is a great source of cheer to the other patients in the hospital.

There is nothing exceptional about Tony's life. He came to this country in 1910, when he was 27 years old, and went to the state of Washington to join his brother and work in a coal mine. His arm was so badly injured in this work that when the war came on in 1914, he was unfit for service, but he started for Austria, hoping to be able to aid his mother and father in the troublous times that were ahead. He got as far as Cementon, N. Y., a township a little to the north of Saugerties, and there he met with the injury that has kept him in the hospital ever since.

There was nothing heroic about the accident, just the kind of thing that might happen to anyone. Standing on a second story porch and talking to friends, he leaned against the rail. The rail crumbled under his weight and he fell to the street. The result—a broken back.

Tony had a few hundred dollars and he paid his way in the hospital as long as he could, but in August, 1915, the hospital had to list him as a free patient. Several years later his brother died and he received a legacy of $500. This he immediately turned over to the hospital, and the treasurer deposited it in a local bank in Tony's name. A few years ago he got $200 from a society he had belonged to in Washington, and this he used to furnish a nurse's room in the hospital.

During the period of our participation in the war, Tony knitted a sock a day and many sweaters for the Red Cross. He has been taught at the hospital to speak and write good English and also to weave, and now he makes very fine straw waste-paper baskets.

Tony is a Catholic as were his parents in the old country, who died in the influenza epidemic that ravaged Austria after the war. He has improved somewhat under the treatment he received at the hospital, but much of his disability is permanent. He is entirely dependent on the kindness of the hospital, but the doctors say that his cheerful effect on other patients is of much assistance to them.

BROOKHART WILL LEAVE FOR WASHINGTON, D. C.

Washington, June 8.—Smith W. Brookhart, one of a smattering of victors over Albert B. Cummins for the latter's seat in the United States Senate, announced here today he would leave at once for Washington, D. C.

"I intend to bend every effort toward the passage of some real farm legislation," Mr. Brookhart said. He expressed his intention to his wife, who is expected to be in Kingston before he leaves. He was accompanied by a woman, who provided for a comfortable journey, and a car.

Waters Close at Noon.

London, June 8.—The Prince of Wales will be the guest of Almon R. Houshilton, the American Ambassador to Great Britain, at dinner in Grosvenor House tonight. Thirty-five guests will attend the dinner. More than five hundred persons have been asked to attend a dance which will follow the dinner.

Investigate Case Of Bennet Doty

Painleve Orders Sentence of American Member of French Foreign Legion Be Suspended Until Full Investigation Has Been Made.

Paris, June 8.—Bennet Doty, otherwise Gilbert Clare, will not be executed for alleged desertion from the Foreign Legion in Syria until a full investigation of his case has been made.

Minister of War Painleve made that certain today, when he cabled to the French commanding officer at Beirut giving instructions that if Doty had been sentenced to death that the sentence be suspended, temporarily at least.

The ministry of war is at a loss to explain the status of the case of this soldier of fortune from Memphis, since it has received no report as to his fate. The ministry of war's action today was taken as a precautionary measure pending a full report.

While officials of the war ministry were disinclined to discuss the case until they had a complete report, it was indicated that if Doty is convicted that it is very probable that he will not be executed. It is the general belief that if the American is convicted he will possibly be given a prison sentence, and then deported from French territory and his re-entry prohibited.

The ministry of war's action was taken at the request of the foreign ministry.

M. Painleve has ordered all the documents and evidence in the case of Doty forwarded to Paris for examination by the department of military justice for possible revision.

American Veterans Join Appeal.

Washington, June 8.—Scores of veterans of the 30th Division, A. E. F., today, joined in the effort to save Bennet J. Doty, also known as "Gilbert Clare," from a French firing squad on a charge of deserting from the French Foreign Legion at Damascus.

Telegrams and letters poured into Washington to back the appeal for clemency made to the French Government by Secretary of State Kellogg through Ambassador Henrich at Paris.

Chief hope for the former Memphis and Blois, Miss., youth, lay in the good record he made while fighting the cause of democracy in France in the World War. The appeals of his former comrades, officials believe, may lend an effective touch of sentiment.

A moral obligation only moved the State Department and Senators McKellar and Tyson of Tennessee to send the appeal for the soldier, since it was pointed out that he had committed himself to the law of the French Army. If the facts of his desertion are as reported, there remains little doubt here but that a court-martial would impose the extreme penalty.

TWO MEN MISSING IN HOTEL FIRE AT BANGOR.

Bangor, Me., June 8.—Two men are missing, two others still badly burned down ladders and several others were rescued by firemen today when fire swept the Arrostook House.

Paul Grongin and Joseph Willett were trapped on the fourth floor of the hotel. Realizing that firemen could not penetrate the flames and smoke, the two men took hold of the sides of a raised ladder and slid to safety. Their hands and faces were burned.

The missing men are: William Foley and a man named Ellis. Search of the ruins failed to reveal their bodies.

Firebrands ignited the Waverly House in the rear of the four story Arrostook House. Guests at the Waverly House fled to the street but that structure was saved.

The fire loss was estimated at $20,000.

AMERICAN BANKS BLAMED FOR NEW FALL OF FRANC.

Paris, June 8.—Pressure by American banks is being held responsible for the new fall of the franc and it is understood that informal protests are being made.

Finance Minister Poincaré, it is reported, has requested a personal friend in Washington to take the matter up informally with the White House and to ask for some action.

The French financial experts are inclined to believe that the new franc pressure upon the franc is intended to force France to raise the Franco-American debt settlement quickly.

$20 Bill Swindle Worked Again

Like all projects that have been used in the past and found successful, the old $20 bill gag was taken out and dusted off on Monday and worked successfully on Oliver Christian at the gas station at Albany and Flatbush avenues during the afternoon by a man who drove up to the station in a Ford coupe.

The driver of the Ford asked for three gallons of gas and presented a $20 bill in payment, stating he had no smaller change. After having the bill changed and the amount of the gas deducted from it, the Ford driver engaged the gasman in conversation and after asking him a few questions suddenly remarked "By the way, I have got the correct change for that gas I just bought," and turned the amount over to the gasman and asked him to return the $20 bill which he did.

It was but a short time later when Mr. Christian began to check up and found he had been "gyped" out of $20, less the cost of the gas, which amount he was short. He immediately reported the matter to the police department together with the automobile license number.

Concede Election Of Brookhart

Des Moines, Iowa, June 8.—The Republican nomination of Smith W. Brookhart for the United States Senate was conceded today by the Cummins campaign committee.

In a statement issued by ex-Governor George W. Clarke, chairman of the Cummins campaign committee, it was stated that the defeat of Senator Cummins "was a protest against existing conditions, rather than any lack of faith of the Republicans of Iowa in Senator Cummins."

From his home at Washington, Iowa, Brookhart refused to make any statement as to his victory. He said he would reach Des Moines today and wished to await more complete returns before commenting upon the result.

Flatsburg Wants Clark.

New York, June 8.—Roy L. Clark, 21, who was arrested here when unable to pay an Albany, N. Y., tax-driver $25 for bringing him to this city after the wedding of Governor Smith's daughter at Albany, was being held today for Sheriff of Flatsburg, N. Y.

Clark was wanted at Flatsburg for passing bad checks there, according to police.

Washington, June 8.—Chief Justice William Howard Taft, who is confined to his home with a slight illness, was reported to be much improved today. He spent a restful night and unless he has a setback, the chief justice and his family will go to their summer home in Murray Bay, Canada, on Friday.

Reopens as Secretary.

George B. Miller has resigned as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Saugerties, and C. E. Wathen is acting as secretary at the present.

Cristman, Dry, Will Oppose Wadsworth, Wet

Senator Wadsworth's Reply To Drys Who Picked Franklin W. Cristman To Oppose Him, Is That The Eighteenth Amendment Is A Mistake—Points Out Weak Features.

Washington, June 8.—Senator James W. Wadsworth, Republican, of New York, promptly picked up today the challenge thrown at him by the organized drys of New York, who have persuaded Franklin W. Cristman to oppose him for re-election.

In a letter outlining his views on the prohibition issue, Senator Wadsworth dispelled all doubt as to his position, and declared his belief that the Eighteenth Amendment was a mistake and that the Volstead Act should be modified. Wadsworth burned all his bridges behind him and came forth as a frank and avowed wet.

Recalling that he had voted against the Eighteenth Amendment, the New York senator declared that the experiment of constitutional prohibition had been a failure.

"It represents an attempt to compel 100,000,000 people to become and remain total abstainers," he said. "I contend that all human experience teaches us that total abstinence through legal compulsion is impossible of attainment. Furthermore, it was far from the intent of the framers of the constitution to give congress the right to regulate the private and personal habits of the citizen."

Ties Hands of People.

"It is a great pity that the Eighteenth Amendment was ratified. It would have been infinitely better had we, recognizing the liquor traffic and the saloon, as a national problem, adopted a simple constitutional amendment conferring power on congress to legislate freely on the liquor traffic. Had that been done, congress could have legislated from time to time, estimated the results, and, finally, would have reached a solution acceptable to an overwhelming majority of the people. The 18th Amendment, however, ties the hands of congress and the people themselves to a very great extent."

"As for the Volstead Act, its provisions are extreme and should be modified. Furthermore, I believe they can be modified without violating the 18th Amendment. Certainly no one can contend that a beverage containing five-eighths of one per cent of alcohol is intoxicating. And yet such is the law."

Cites Quebec System.

"I shall be perfectly frank, however, and say that while I advocate modification, I do not believe modification of the Volstead Act within Constitutional limits will solve the problem permanently. I think we must go back to the 18th Amendment itself and substitute for it a simple grant of power to congress."

With such a grant, Wadsworth declared congress and the states could solve the problem in line with public sentiment in the various states, with "some such system as prevails in Quebec."

"The principles of the Quebec plan I believe are sound."

Wadsworth pointed out that in Quebec the government controlled all liquor, had no saloons, or public drinking, and dry communities remained dry, yet where sentiment was wet there had government stores.

"I believe some such scheme as this will achieve more for the cause of temperance than the scheme we have been trying for the last six or seven years."

Dry Forces Back Cristman.

New York, June 8.—Franklin W. Cristman, of Herkimer, N. Y., a banker, lawyer and former state senator, will be the independent "dry" candidate for United States Senator. He will be backed by the allied dry forces of the state who have made it plain they are out to beat United States Senator James J. Wadsworth today, after accepting the invitation of the drys to lead their fight, that he "stands square" on the proposition that the Constitution of the United States must be "enforced."

Error Sends Biggest Circus Here Wednesday

Mistake in Routing Causes 101 Ranch Show to Include Kingston Among Big Circus Cities of America—Street Parade at 11 A. M.—Some Circus Features.

Through a fortunate error in routing, the Miller 101 Ranch Show comes to Kingston on Wednesday, Kingston being the smallest city which has been included in the itinerary of the big show which is playing only the larger cities of the United States.

Circus goers are not interested in the details of the error by which Kingston is included among the "big show towns" of the 101 Ranch Big Show. It is enough for them that the 101 Ranch Show puts Kingston in the same class as Washington and Baltimore, where the show has been playing under tents for some time, with Newark, N. J., where the show plays Tuesday; with Pittsfield, Mass., where it goes Thursday, or Springfield, Mass., Hartford, Conn., and the other big cities of New England. The big tent seats 14,000 people.

Line of Parade.
The big show will be given on the Kingston Fair Grounds at the foot of North Front street, and the street parade will start from the Fair Grounds at 11 a. m. Wednesday, proceeding over the following line of march.

North Front street to Clinton avenue, to Broadway, to Delaware avenue, to Murray street, to Hasbrouck avenue, to Strand, to Broadway, and back to the circus grounds.

600 Mounted People in Parade.
There will be 600 mounted people in the parade, which is one of the few remaining circuses, either big or little, which still maintains a street parade with all its old time splendor.

There will be six bands in the parade, so that music will be continuous; two calliopes, allegorical units, floats, circus wagons, horses, elephants, zebras, and all the other animals which the "old time circus" has delighted to show to the people.

Circus Carries 1,400 People.
The 101 Ranch Show carries 1,400 people who are needed to keep the tented city in condition, in motion and in action. This number includes performers, tent men, laborers, cooks, waiters, salesmen, musicians, business staff, managing staff, etc. The problem of feeding, caring for and moving this number of people with all the paraphernalia is a problem that is solved only by the most expert efforts of men of experience in handling a big circus.

Arrives in Kingston 6 A. M.
The circus is due to arrive in Kingston from Newark at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning and will be unloaded on the West Shore sidings.

There will be two performances, beginning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 o'clock in the evening, and about 1,200 people will take part.

General admission and grand stand seats already have been placed on sale at the William S. Eltinge drug store on John street and will also be on sale at various stands on the circus grounds.

Two Sections of Big Show.
The 101 Ranch Show is composed of two sections—the Wild West and the Far East.

The Wild West Section comprises 150 native American Indians, representing four tribes—Sioux, Cheyenne, Crow and Blackfeet, with Chief Turkey Legs in command. He is accompanied by his squaw. There are also included in the Wild West Section 150 American cowboys and 150 cowgirls whose feats of daring and skill in bare back riding, with the rifle and in other ways command the admiration and attention of everyone wherever the show appears.

The Russian Cossack Circus.
A new feature this year is the Russian Cossack Circus, which forms part of the Far East section. General Watchlay Savitsky, former Minister of War for Russia, and Prince Arthurov Andronikov are in command of the Russian section. Both of these well known Russians have attracted world wide attention, and the latter is now receiving much attention in America on account of his being heir to the former great estates of the House of Georgia. He was fourth richest man in Imperial Russia.

Neither of these notable Russians speaks English, but Mrs. Nathalie Bucknall, Russian wife of a British naval officer, acts as interpreter. During the Russian revolution she faced a firing squad but refused to tell the hiding place of many crown jewels of the Czar, which she finally brought to America in the Berengaria with Col. John C. Miller and the Cossack circus in March.

Other Far East Features.
Other famous features in the Far East section include the Zouaves, high school horses, Hodgini and a troupe of equestrian experts who have been touring Europe, and other wild riders of many lands of the Orient.

There are, of course, many wild animal acts in the show. Elephants, zebras, giraffes and all the other animals of the forest and desert are gathered together to form a part of the 101 Ranch Show, and while there is not any regular menagerie, every animal performs some act in the show.

Millers Head the Parade.
The two famous Miller brothers, Zach and Col. Joe, will head the big parade, along with the two famous Russians already mentioned. The Miller brothers are the owners of the big show, which through a process of consolidation has become one of the biggest circuses in the world, and the circus was named for their big ranch in the west which contains 225,000 acres.

Women haven't much use for arithmetic except to see subtraction when their side is required.

Trapped by a human wolf—

WHEN Margy fell in love with Eldon Keith at college, she did not know that he was very wise regarding the ways of women, or she might have suspected something was wrong when he insisted that they leave college and marry at once. Had she only listened to the wise counsel of those who really loved her!

Swept off her feet by his tempestuous love-making—she yielded to the entreaties of her sweetheart—and one night they quietly slipped away—on the road, as she believed, to an Eden of Romance.

But as Margy looks back now on the tragic consequences of her folly she wants to cry out a warning to girls and their parents everywhere.

Her story, "The Lair of the Wolf," appears complete in True Story Magazine for July. Don't miss this gripping, heart-throbbing feature.

Other Thrilling True-Life Narratives in the July True Story are:

"Buried in the Heart"—Doreen knew Gordon Stuart was married. But there was something about him she could not resist—until one day she found herself in a terrible situation.

"Repent at Leisure"—A whirlwind romance—a sudden and secret marriage! It sounds very exciting—or so Nora thought. Repentance came too late. A true story that will wring your heart.

"The Letter and the Rose"—What would you do if you found a love letter from a strange woman addressed to your husband? Read what happened to the girl who writes this gripping, heart-throbbing narrative.

Prominent Minister Praises True Story Magazine

Gentlemen: Carthage, Texas, April 17, 1926.

As a father and a minister of the Gospel I believe that Macfadden is a trade-mark of cleanliness and wholesomeness in life and literature. I have read much of his publications and have found the sunshine of life in them all.

I feel sure that nothing will appear in the pages of "True Story" magazine that could bring a blush to the most innocent maiden's cheek.

Let young men and women read the Gospel of life, with its pitfalls and tragedies, then point out the right way and they will turn to the right every time, unless mentally diseased.

Without the slightest hesitation I am delighted to recommend "True Story" magazine to parents—its moral tone is magnificent.

Sincerely yours,
Henry E. Summers, M.D., Th.D.

Local Firemen Will Parade

Three Kingston Companies to Participate in Parade at Port Jervis Thursday—Middletown Firemen Decide Expense Is Too Great for Them.

Members of the Middletown fire department have decided not to participate in the firemen's parade at Port Jervis on Thursday in connection with the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's convention. The reason for not being in line is given as the high cost of procuring music and the necessary cost of the trip. Many of the members of the volunteer units are employed on the O. & W. railroad and a recent shut down of the shops has caused financial loss from the railroad employees have not yet recovered. They claim they could not well afford to pay the large assessment necessary to pay the cost of the trip.

Rapid Hose Company of this city which will participate in the parade has been assigned to the 4th division in the line of march. Excelsior Hose company has been assigned to the 5th division and Cordis Hose Company to the 7th division.

The local companies will go to Port Jervis by special train over the O. & W. railroad, leaving here at 7:30 a. m., eastern standard time. The public is invited to take advantage of this special train and the low excursion rate.

Triple Murder Theory Advanced

Autopsy Discloses Wounds on the Charred Bodies of Two Children and Grandmother Found in Brooklyn Cottage.

New York, June 8.—Investigations into the ruins of an isolated cottage in Brooklyn in which the charred bodies of two small children and their grandmother were found, today disclosed indications of a mysterious triple murder, according to police.

The victims, Mary Martulla, four, her two-year-old brother, John, and their grandmother, Mrs. Mary Milazzo, 57, were at first believed to have perished accidentally in the fire which razed the cottage. After an autopsy had disclosed wounds on the bodies, however, detectives launched an investigation into the possibility that the three were murdered and their bodies burned to cover the triple crime.

Medical examiners announced that they found a knife wound in the abdomen of the little girl, and that the skull of the grandmother had been shattered by a blunt instrument.

Mystery surrounds both the motive and the fire. It was at first thought that the children had been playing with matches, but police said later that the grandmother, shortly before she died, told detectives that she had been struck on the head. The two children were discovered apparently burned to death in their bedroom, while the grandmother was found lying at the bottom of the stairway.

The children's parents, who were away at work when the tragedy occurred, were hysterical today. They could advance no possible motive for the crime.

R. D. Clearwater Sells His Stock

Ralph D. Clearwater, who for some time has conducted a ladies' and men's furnishing store at 306 Wall street, in the building owned by Frank Forman, has disposed of his stock of goods and retired from the business. Mr. Clearwater first opened a store in the Advance building on Wall street and later that store was taken over by Von Berg's Restaurant. At that time Mr. Clearwater moved to the location at 306 Wall street, where he continued the business.

Some time ago the store of Mr. Clearwater was leased to the Kinney Shoe Company, which occupies one of the stores in the building. As was stated in The Freeman at that time, the Kinney people have taken a lease for ten years on the store which Mr. Clearwater occupied. A new front will be placed in the building and the two stores will be made in one large store, which will be occupied by the G. R. Kinney Company, Inc.

JUDGE SAYS MRS. PRESLEY CAUSED FATAL ACCIDENT

Woodville, N. H., June 8.—Judge Fred A. Jones, of Lebanon, Dartmouth College graduate and Democratic leader, on trial today for manslaughter, offered the defense that Mrs. Mildred Presley was to blame for the automobile accident which resulted in her death on January 20. The judge's defense is that Mrs. Presley impulsively seized the steering wheel, causing the coach to plunge down an embankment on the West Hamer road. The state, on the other hand, claims that the accused judge had been drinking and that "heer exhalted the form on the throttle of the ill-fated car."

Holloway Re-arrested

Detroit, June 8.—Kenneth Holloway, a pitcher, who was suspended a week ago, has been reinstated. He was arrested on June 7, when he was charged with having stolen a baseball from the Detroit team. Holloway, who was the manager of the Detroit team, last season, has not been a success this year. Cobb, Detroit's star, has been a failure this season, and has been due to a lack of confidence, sent him home to get into shape to pitch winning baseball.

Vote on Camp At Tannersville

New York City Police Recreation Camp Faces Big Deficit and Referendum Will Be Held to Determine Its Future.

The question of whether the New York city police department summer camp at Tannersville shall be continued or not will be decided by a referendum to be held among the members of the police department. The police camp faces a deficit of $262,226.87 according to a report made public by the line officers of the police department comprising the reorganized Police Recreation Camp, Inc. Should the camp be abandoned it would mean a loss of the $800,000 invested in it under the Enright administration.

The board of officers elected recently under a reorganization law passed at the last session of the legislature advocates the continuance of the project with the transfer of $262,000 from the $2,000,000 police relief fund.

Patrolman Joseph P. Moran, formerly of Eddyville, president of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, is a member of the board now in charge of the camp.

The report does not reveal the present viewpoint of Police Commissioner McLaughlin in the matter, but ends with the statement: "The present police commissioner's judgment is that the expenditure of such a large sum of money for the construction of the camp was inadvisable and that this million dollars or more should have been placed in the Police Relief Fund and there held for the relief of the widows and others permitted to participate in that fund."

The Police Relief Fund was created through outside subscriptions during the Enright regime and advanced $255,528 toward the camp up to the time Mr. McLaughlin became head of the police department. An additional $229,637.27 expended on the camp was obtained through the 1925 Police Field Day games and $17,796.34 was donated by others.

The cash expenditures for the camp amounted to $726,933.04 since the project was started on November 10, 1920. This left $49,972.33 of the cash receipts, but there are bills for $195,972.20 to be met soon on contracts let during the Enright administration on the completion of work at the camp. Should the referendum be favorable more than $57,000 for additional work to complete the camp will have to be voted. Another item to be met in the event of favorable action by the men of the force is $60,000 for a landscape survey of the camp, which was decided on in the previous administration and is now under consideration by the new board of officers.

Student Tickets For Big Concerts

The Ulster County Musical Association having learned that in many families there were high school and other students who desire to take advantage of the educational as well as entertaining features of the big concerts to be given next season under the association, it has been arranged that student tickets will be sold. To pay the full amount of $5 for adults and students in one family, it has been learned, would be prohibitive to many families who are really anxious to avail themselves of the privilege, so the association has arranged to sell a student ticket for the full course for $3. Announcement of this offer will be made to high school students and to others in this way, but it should be remembered that this offer will have to be accepted this week. Therefore Harry P. Dodge should be promptly notified by those desiring tickets, of their wishes.

ILLINOIS WILL JOIN NATIONAL BOXING ASS'N.

Chicago, June 8.—O. W. Huncke, chairman of the Illinois Boxing Commission, issued two weighty announcements today. They were: Illinois will join the National Boxing Association.

No bouts will be authorized in the state this month.

Huncke's statement that his commission will join the National Association spikes the rumors that the local body contemplated affiliation with the New York Boxing Commission, the only body of its kind in the country not a member of the National Association.

The announcement was interpreted to mean that the local commission would not prevent the proposed heavyweight title match between Champion Phil Rosenberg and Bud Taylor. Rosenberg is barred by the New York solons because he will not fight Blinky Graham of Tulsa.

If Illinois had joined forces with the New York Commission, it was pointed out, Rosenberg's suspension would stand here.

JUNE TAXES WILL MEET CASH REQUIREMENTS

Secretary Mellon today made the following announcement: "The treasury will make no offering of government obligations for sale on June 15, 1926. This department from the usual procedure on the quarterly tax payment dates has been made possible on account of the increase in income tax and other receipts over earlier expectations, and the fact that the aggregate public debt maturities due June 15 are somewhat less than usual."

"The amount of taxes to be received in June together with the balance on hand is expected to be sufficient to meet the treasury cash requirements until September, when further financing will be necessary."

Mayor Schwab Returns Home

Buffalo Mayor Not a Candidate for Governor if Governor Smith is Running—Is Busy Running Buffalo.

New York, June 8.—Mayor Frank X. Schwab of Buffalo returned to America today from a tour of Europe and announced that he has no intention of running for governor of New York, but is quite satisfied to return to Buffalo which he is convinced is "the best place in the world."

Asked whether he would consider becoming a gubernatorial candidate Mayor Schwab said: "Not if Al Smith is running. I have plenty to do running Buffalo. Moreover if the country returns to beer and light wines I intend to return to the brewery business."

Mayor Schwab accompanied 278 American hotel men, who returned home from a tour of eight European countries, after having attended the meetings of the International Hotel Alliance.

A delegation of Buffalo business men, and Mayor Schwab's seven children, chartered a ferryboat and a small craft, which carried bands and went out into the bay to welcome the returning travelers who were aboard the Italian liner Conte Biancamano.

Mayor Walker of New York accompanied the welcoming party, being particularly interested in their arrival since Mrs. Walker was a member of the party. He also gave a hearty welcome to Mayor Schwab.

Shoots 4 Women Then Kills Self

New York, June 8.—John Olasin, 37, was infuriated because his wife wouldn't give him a divorce. He entered a beauty parlor where she worked and shot her and three other women. Then he shot himself in the temple, dying instantly. The women were removed to a hospital in a serious condition.

The injured are Mrs. Marie Olasin, 23, who was shot in the right shoulder and stomach; Mme. Marie Forcetti, 31, proprietor of the beauty parlor, shot in the hand and breast; Catherine Venzano, who was shot in the back and Marie Tamsey, 33, who was shot in the stomach. Another employee of the place, Anna Benzer, a pretty fifteen year old girl, escaped when the shooting began.

Olasin walked into the beauty parlor, where his wife had been employed about a month and demanded in loud tones that his wife give him a divorce. They have been married eight years.

"I want you to give me a divorce," Olasin told his wife. "I don't want to live with you any more."

"I won't give you a divorce," answered Mrs. Olasin, according to witnesses. "I haven't anything to give you a divorce on."

Olasin went out angry and returned twenty minutes later, pistol in hand and began shooting right and left. After the four women in the place had collapsed to the floor he fired a bullet into his own brain and fell dead across the threshold of the rear room.

Matters Before The Surrogate

In the surrogate's court, a petition was filed for letters of administration by Ora M. Short, daughter, in the estate of Joseph Ganung of the town of Lloyd who died intestate. Value of estate $6,000 real; $200 personal. A. D. & A. W. Lent, attorneys for petitioner.

The will of Phoebe B. Steiner of this city was admitted to probate. Several bequests were made by the terms of the will and the residuary estate was equally divided between Jennie M. Hubbard and Edward P. Steiner of this city. The value of the estate is $4,000 real and $1,500 personal. Robert G. Groves is attorney for the executors.

The annual Children's Day services of the Sunday school will be held in the church on Sunday morning, June 20. The school is preparing an unusually attractive program for the services.

RUSHING WORK FOR THEATRE ADDITION

Work on the erection of the large stage addition to the Rensselaer Theatre on Crown street is being rushed by Frank Campbell, the contractor. The large electric scoop shovel which lifts the earth and debris into trucks to be carried away attracts much attention and people watch its operation nearly all the time it is being operated.

WIFE SAYS MAYOR WALKER'S WIFE

New York, June 8.—Mrs. James J. Walker, wife of New York's mayor, returned from Europe today convinced that prohibition is "all wrong."

"I saw more sobriety abroad than ever here," declared Mrs. Walker. The mayor met his wife and presented her with a huge bouquet of roses.

Father tried to complain when mother brought Florida water; now mother complains when father brings Florida land.

Aged Woman Was Fatally Burned

Mrs. Catherine J. Sheehan, 78 years old, died within a few minutes after being admitted to the Kingston City Hospital on Saturday of burns she had received at Palenville. The aged woman was visiting in Palenville and had gone in the yard and was busy trying to burn out a nest of worms in a tree when her clothing suddenly ignited and before her cries could bring assistance she was horribly burned about the body. After administering first aid, the woman was rushed to the hospital here and died a minute or so later.

The KITCHEN CABINET

(By 1924 Western Newspaper Union.)
"Among the most thoroughly self-deluded people in the world are those who think that in the multiplication of things and possessions happiness and contentment lie."

BREAD AND CAKE

The breads and fancy cakes which we buy from bakeries and food markets are good and attractive, but may be made at home, better and much cheaper.

Whole Wheat Nut Bread.—Soften one quart of a cake of yeast in two table-spoonfuls of water; add one cupful of scalded and cooled milk, one-fourth of a cupful of dark molasses, one tea-spoonful of salt, two and one-half cupfuls of entire wheat flour and one cupful of nutmeats. Mix and knead until smooth. Let rise until double its bulk, adding the chopped nuts to the last kneading. Shape into two loaves, let rise again and bake.

Luncheon Rolls.—Add two table-spoonfuls of sugar, one-fourth tea-spoonful of salt to two cupfuls of scalding hot water; when cool add one-half of a yeast cake dissolved in two table-spoonfuls of lukewarm water and three-fourths of a cupful of flour. Cover and let rise, then add one egg well beaten, the grated rind of a lemon, two table-spoonfuls of butter and enough flour to knead. Let rise again, roll to one-half inch thickness, shape with a small biscuit cutter, place in a buttered pan close together; let rise again and bake.

Maryland Beaten Biscuits.—Take one pint of flour, one-third of a cupful of lard, mix well and add salt and enough milk and water to make a stiff dough. Toss lightly on a floured board and beat with a rolling pin thirty minutes, folding and pounding the dough. Roll one-third of an inch in thickness, cut with a small cutter, prick with a fork and bake on a buttered tin twenty minutes in a hot oven.

Plain Sponge Cake.—Beat two eggs, separating the whites and yolks; add one-half cupful of sugar and the flaving of a table-spoonful of lemon juice and a bit of the rind to the beaten yolks, add one-half cupful of flour and fold in the stiffly beaten whites, adding a pinch of salt. Bake in a moderate oven until it shrinks from the pan.

MEETINGS AT ALBANY AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church will hold its regular monthly meeting in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

At the prayer meeting on Thursday evening, Miss M. K. Miller of Mandalay, Burma, will speak on life and mission work in Burma. Miss Miller has spent a number of years in that country as a missionary and is a most interesting speaker. The meeting is at 7:45.

Next Sunday morning the Children's Day exercises of the Bible school will be held at the time of the morning service, half past ten. A splendid program has been prepared and all members of church and Bible school, home department and cradle roll are expected to be present at that hour. The superintendent, W. W. Brady, Jr., will be in charge.

Obvious Injustice

He was a thoughtful boy. "Injustice," he exclaimed, "the world is full of it even for a youth of twelve." "How is that?" asked an elderly companion. "Have you not observed," pursued the youthful philosopher, "how that a boy who has never sworn to obey his mother's husband has nevertheless to do so, while that same mother, who has sworn to obey him, never does?"

Living for Others

No man can live happily who regards himself alone, who turns everything to his own advantage. There must live for another, if thou wilt live for thyself.—Seneca.

Moving Sea Baths

The swimming bath of one of the big Atlantic liners held 120 bath of warm sea water and there are 20 dressing rooms ranged round the sides.

ASK YOUR GROCER FOR SEIDEN'S CHARCOAL

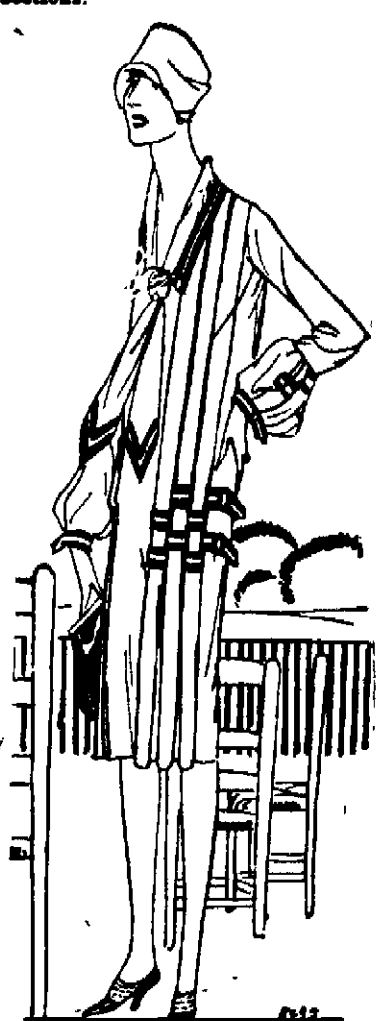

Used Same as Wood.

Sky-Blue and Sea-Blue are the Chic Additions to the Summer Rainbow.

To wear "something blue" is not the prerogative of the bride alone. The Parisienne is already wearing this clear, dainty color—a charming foil to the family of rose and beige tones which have been engaging the attention of the feminine world for quite some time.

Two shades of blue are smarter than one, it seems; for even a delicate chiffon, in filmy evening interpretation, is accented by a flower of a slightly deeper blue. Sports clothes of crepe or washable silk are bordered with the darker tone at every conceivable place. Interesting new trimming ideas from Paris include pleated inserts of a darker color, sometimes used to give wrist fullness and skirt fullness, but also used in perfectly flat, stitched-down sections.

A Fall Daytime Frock in Natural Blue Crepe de Chine, Trimmed with Bands of a Deeper Blue. The Pleated Arrangement at the Hips is of Interest.

Handkerchief linen is lovely in pale blue, daintily edged with lace or net, with hand tuckings and scalloping. Here again we see that the accompanying large milan hat is apt to be of a brighter, but of course, harmonizing tone of blue.

There are exceptions to this rule, however, and very important exceptions. Combinations of colors are equally fashionable this summer, and consequently our pale blue afternoon frock, or evening dress, may be worn with accessories of yellow pink, or even red.

Colored linen footwear is an important innovation, and for those fortunate who are able to indulge every sartorial whim, there is the pleasing fashion of being clothed in color from tip to toe. There are even pastel-colored washable slip-on gloves on the market. (Copyright, 1926, Metropolitan Newspaper Service, New York.)

KERHONKSON.

Kerhonkson, June 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fluckiger entertained their sons, Melvin and Ray, on Sunday. Mead Davis and wife and Mrs. Lizzie Wells from Port Ewen and Mr. Blackmore from Kerhonkson were among the callers.

Fred Strickland is doing some work for James V. Etten.

A very interesting and instructive Home Bureau meeting was held by Mrs. Winfield DePue at her home on Thursday afternoon. Topic: "Meal Planning and Light Refreshments." After the lesson and taking of recipes, Mrs. DePue demonstrated six different kinds of cabbage salad. In appearance and flavor the combinations were both pleasing to the eye and taste. Any society planning to give a dinner or supper would be wise to consult the committee, Mrs. DePue, Mrs. Osborn and Mrs. Jacob Terwilliger, in selecting a wholesome meal. This committee will be glad to give any information possible.

Chairman Mrs. George Davis, in behalf of the Home Bureau, presented Mrs. Chester Freer, past chairman, with a Home Bureau pin. The program for the coming year will be published later.

The Kerhonkson Home Bureau Library has moved from Arcadia Garage to the small building of Charles Davis next door to his home. Library will be open on Thursday evening from 7 to 8, Saturday afternoons from 2 to 4. From the sale of taxes on Decoration Day, $48 was realized, same to be used for new books. The Home Bureau unit extends their appreciation to the following: Arcadia Garage, space for books during winter; Mrs. Harker and Mrs. Murphy, enough cannot be said about the way these ladies put their shoulder to the wheel and gave time and labor that Kerhonkson may have a long-needed need supplied—a library—and they have had absolute charge of it since it started to the public for selling tags; to anyone donating books and furnishings of any kind; to Charles Davis for the present quarters. Everybody who visits the library and talks with the ladies will carry some of their enthusiasm home. Anyone having old books and needing space for new books should send them over to the library and they will gladly be cared for.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

PARADOXURE

"My name," said the white-whiskered Paradoxure, "is a name everyone can't have."

"Ah, good friend," said one of the other animals, "it is a name everyone doesn't want to have."

"Some would find it quite hard to go through life with a name like yours."

"Everyone would get it wrong and there would be so many mistakes and so much confusion."

"People and animals without a doubt must feel relieved that they haven't such a name."

"Well," said the white-whiskered Paradoxure, "it may be all very well for people and animals not to want my name."

"But let me tell you one thing— they couldn't have it."

"No, only a white-whiskered Paradoxure can own such a fine name."

"It's good you like it," said the other animal. "I'm glad to hear you like something."

"Ha, ha," laughed the white-whiskered Paradoxure, and then turned

A Puma.

He laugh into a cough, for he did not want to be too pleasant.

"Of course I like my name, and I don't think much of anyone who doesn't like it," he said.

"There you are, cross again," said the other animal. "Tell me, Paradoxure, what makes you so cross?"

"Would you really like to know?"

"Really and truly?"

"Really and truly."

"Honestly?"

"Honestly."

"Then, say please, I may be cross, but you don't have to be."

"Please."

"Well," said the white-whiskered Paradoxure, "when one looks like a puma and isn't one that is enough to annoy a creature."

"I'm always being mistaken for a puma."

"Then my home is supposed to be in China and I'm not there."

"That's annoying."

"Then I have a name which, to tell you the truth, (even though you know it) but at least to admit the truth, is so hard for everyone to get."

"It is so hard they make mistakes in it all the time."

"That is trying, especially when one has such a fine and handsome name as I have."

"Then I am stared at without being introduced; well, it is all enough to make a creature cross."

"And so I snarl and I growl at the people who look at me, and I try to say to them:

"And people, you are looking at the paradoxure with white whiskers, who is known as the white-whiskered Paradoxure from China."

"Doesn't look like every creature around the zoo or around the schoolhouse."

"You all look alike and there is nothing interesting about you."

"So I am snarling at you and growling at you with disgust as I look at you."

"That is what I am doing, I am."

"I only hope you understand."

Try This

A certain college professor was apt to make his students drowsy when he lectured to them, and one day a student fell fast asleep.

"Wake that man next to you up," the professor thundered at the unfortunate student's neighbor.

"Wake him up yourself," the reply came back. "You put him to sleep."

Thousands in daily use

The first experience with Stewart trucks is an eye-opener. Their easy riding, easy steering, and easy upkeep are a revelation. They outwork and outlive other trucks. They make oil, gas, and tires produce extra mileage. They are designed to do it for long years after other trucks have been scrapped. Many 4, 6, 8, 10, and 12 year old Stewarts are still on the road. It is a dollar for dollar comparison of values that makes hundreds of Stewart fleets grow from a single Stewart truck.

Legion Camp in The Adirondacks

Opportunity Afforded Legionnaires to Spend Vacation Period in Paradise Point Section, Ten Miles from Summer White House. Members of the American Legion in New York state will have the opportunity this summer of spending their vacations in the Adirondacks just ten miles from the Summer White House to be occupied by President Coolidge and his entourage.

This was announced Monday by Joseph A. Burns, camp superintendent of the recreational area of the Veterans' Mountain Camp, owned and operated by the American Legion of this state and situated on Big Tupper Lake. That section opened this year to Legionnaires and their families for vacation periods is Paradise Point, one of the most beautiful and healthful spots in the state.

Cottages formerly occupied by the guests of the millionaire who owned the property, completely furnished with the exception of linen, a large dormitory, and a large space for recreation and sports which the Adirondacks furnish. The only requisite is a membership card in the Legion.

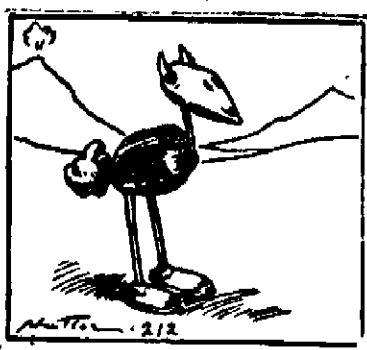

A dining room, restaurant, canteen and commissary will furnish food at low prices and each cottage visitor will be allowed two weeks. A longer stay may be obtained if there are no applicants on file. Tenting occupants may stay as long as they desire. Free timber for fuel is offered, free medical inspection and first aid services given, and bowling and tennis will be added to the boating and fishing attractions. Legionnaires desiring to take advantage of this vacation privilege are invited to write the Superintendent, Veterans' Mountain Camp, Tupper Lake, N. Y.

Bows Against Clubs
In England recently a golf team was opposed by a team of archers. The latter shot their way around with smaller score than the golfers and won the match. Offhand there seems to be but little connection between the two sports, but on second thought there are not many golfers who are expert in drawing the longbow!—Boston Transcript.

Don't Make That Kind

Nutty Natural History

BY RUCR HUGHES.

THE INCA SIMOLEON.

Only a few specimens of simoleons are now in existence in widely scattered museums, the best collection, of course, being in the American Museum of Nutty Natural History. For countless ages, however, before the discovery of America, the simoleon was bred and raised by the Incas in ancient Peru, where their round, shiny bodies, after being carefully cut and dried, were strung in chains to be used as money. It is a well-known fact to many historians that the reason the Incas offered no resistance to Pizarro in his conquest of Peru was that Pizarro was after gold and not simoleons. It was only after a band of Pizarro's soldiers on a drunken spree broke into a simoleon storehouse that the Incas became alarmed and murdered Pizarro and all his followers.

As the accompanying picture shows, the simoleon is a cross between an ostrich and a horned woodpecker, although it is much smaller than the one and larger than the other. A filbert and popped popcorn form the body and tail, the neck and legs being toothpicks. Split peanut kernels form the head, while popcorn kernels are fastened on top of the head for the ears.

We have often noticed that the less a person has the matter with him the more he complains about it, and we often wonder if old Job, as he patiently cursed the day he was born and remarked that he was nothing more or less than a brother to dragons and a companion to owls, really had anything worse than a touch of eczema.—Ohio State Journal.

2 A. M. Law in NY City Enforced

All-Night Cabarets in New York Closed at 2 o'clock—Proprietors Will Try to Get Time Limit Extended to 3 o'clock.

New York, June 8.—"All-night clubs" are a thing of the past in New York.

The city's new curfew law, which went into effect several weeks ago, was enforced today for the first time.

At 2 o'clock this morning every cabaret known to the police as an all-night resort was closed tight. Policemen were at the front doors of the various resorts to see that they closed on time. And they did.

Proprietors of the all-night cabarets had all been notified early last evening of the new closing hour.

The news quickly spread through Broadway and the White Light District. Business wasn't as good as usual. The requests for table reservations showing a big decline.

Properly at 2 o'clock the resorts were closed and there was an exodus of complaining patrons who had "just got started." Cabaret entertainers mingled with grumbling patrons. Taxicab drivers, used to waiting until 5 or 6 o'clock for the "trade," sped with their fares from the night club district.

One place, a widely known club in West Fifty-fourth street, was said to be the only resort that defied Mayor James J. Walker's edict. No action has been taken against this club by the police, however.

Despite the meekness of the proprietors of the clubs today, it is said they plan to make a vigorous protest and that they will do their best to get the limit extended until at least 3 o'clock in the morning.

Mayor Walker, in commenting recently on the curfew law, said it wasn't a good thing to have the working people of the city meet in the subways, and elsewhere, silken-hatted revellers emerging from the all-night resorts after having had a "big night." He thought 2 o'clock plenty long enough for guests to stay in the cabarets asserting that only the tough element wanted to remain longer.

Warship Needed Mascot
The bad luck that attended the United States battleship Texas was attributed by old men-o-war-men to the fact that she had no mascot. Geese as mascots have a bad reputation with sailors. And most seamen believe that if a cat falls overboard and is drowned the vessel is doomed.

FARM POULTRY

CERTIFIED STOCK
BEST FOR CHICKS

Persons who buy baby chicks should see to it that they are from tested stock, which affords protection against bacillary white diarrhea, advises the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment station. Otherwise a great many of the chicks are likely to be dead on arrival or to begin to die soon afterwards. Many times the loss of shipped chicks is said to be caused by chilling, overeating, or early feeding, when in reality it is due to bacillary white diarrhea.

The station has already tested over 45,000 breeding birds this season and there are still some to be tested. These birds will probably produce over a million chicks, or nearly enough to supply the state. Furthermore, they have been culled for type and egg production, which also makes for better chicks.

Bacillary white diarrhea is transmitted to the young chick through the egg produced by infected breeding stock. Little can be done if the disease makes its appearance, as the losses usually continue until the chicks have outgrown the most susceptible period. If only one chick has been infected through the egg this chick may serve to infect the others in the brood. Strict regard for sanitary measures and the feeding of milk products may keep the loss down somewhat. The disease is prevented by using hatching eggs produced by breeding stock that is free of this infection. Infected birds are detected by means of a blood test.

Those who are interested in buying chicks from tested flocks may obtain the names of owners of various breeds by writing to the Experiment Station, New Brunswick, N. J., or the State Bureau of Markets at Trenton, N. J. Such chicks may, in some cases, cost a few cents more than the regular price, but they are worth it.

Chicks Prompted to Eat Dirt by Abnormal Taste

It may be an abnormal taste in chicks which prompts them to eat dirt, but clean dirt will do them no harm and seems to satisfy a craving. Give them a sod every day, roots up, and see how the little things love their miniature jungle.

Dirt which is taken up with food is another thing. If the practice is to feed on the ground the food quickly becomes foul and may be poisonous to the chicks. The modern method with baby chicks is to give all feed from clean boards and water in vessels that cannot be polluted, and are chick proof. A chick has the faculty of drowning in a very little water, accessible through a very small hole.

Ohio's Big Ten Rules

Ohio poultry experts and farmers have worked out ten rules for the successful raising of chicks. They are: 1. Hatch early. 2. Prepare the brooder house and move it to clean ground. 3. Provide sufficient brooder house space and large enough stove. 4. Do not feed chickens too soon. 5. Feed a wholesome, complete ration. 6. Feed large amounts of milk. 7. Provide green feed liberally. 8. Get chicks outdoors as soon as possible. 9. Rear young stock away from the old. 10. Separate cockerels and pullets as soon as possible.

Poultry Hints

Sanitation is the most important factor in raising poultry.

Most of the roup and colds in the poultry flocks are due to poor ventilation.

Hens must be kept in a good healthy condition if they are to produce eggs.

Broad soaked in milk and squeezed out nearly dry makes a good starter for young turkeys.

To get high-grade results from your chickens you must expect to give them high-grade attention.

The common goose found on many farms can be improved by crossing with pure-bred geese.

The good type hen is strong, vigorous and capable of standing the heavy strain of continued egg production. Her head is neat, feminine, with no extra flesh.

Though some consider it an unnecessary drudge and extra work, it pays to keep records on the poultry flock.

To prevent egg eating, gather the eggs often and have the nests darkened so the eggs are not easily seen.

While the egg production of pullets is higher, as a rule, than that of old hens, old hens may possess qualities desired as to be profitable to keep them over several years.

Dedicate School At Cobleskill

Buildings of State School of Agriculture to be Dedicated on School's Tenth Anniversary—Governor Smith May Attend Ceremonies.

Marking the tenth anniversary of the opening of the school, the New York State School of Agriculture at Cobleskill will dedicate the buildings forming the quadrangle on the afternoon of June 18.

Dr. Frank P. Graves, commissioner of education, will make the principal address and there is a possibility of Governor Alfred E. Smith being present to take an important part in the program. It will be especially appropriate to have Governor Smith on the program because when he was a member of the assembly he assisted in passing the bill which authorized the starting of the school.

Cobleskill State School which opened its doors in the fall of 1916 will in all probability have an enrollment of about 125 in September, 1926. During the first ten years of the existence of the school, 277 persons have been graduated.

The program for the dedication ceremonies which will be held at 2 p. m., Friday, June 18, is as follows:

America.....Orchestra
Invocation—The Rev. Father Keefe,
St. Vincent de Paul Church, Cobleskill.

Chorus.....Miss Tryon
Inception and Growth of the State School.....The Hon. D. D. Frisbie
Community Singing.

Dedication Address—Commissioner Frank Pierrepont Graves.
The Orange and the Black.
Capping of Buildings—L. W. Crittenden.

Music.

The Hon. Daniel D. Frisbie of Middletown, president of the board of trustees, will preside during the dedication ceremonies. Mr. Frisbie introduced the first bill which made provision for the starting of the State school at the time he was speaker of the assembly. He has been president of the board of trustees of State School since its organization.

The main, home economics and dairy buildings together with the newly constructed gymnasium and livestock pavilion form the quadrangle. The completion of the self-contained building program for instruction buildings.

Installations have been issued to all alumni and former students of State school to return in the dedication and to attend the dedication dinner which will be held in the gymnasium on the evening of June 18.

5,796 Motorists Lost Licenses

Five Months' Record of State Motor Vehicle Activities Results in Large Number of Suspensions and Revocations.

Albany, June 8.—During the first five months of this year 5,796 automobile licenses were revoked or suspended for violations of law in this state, according to a statement issued today by Charles A. Harnett, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles. In May there were 931 revocations and 815 suspensions, compared with 435 revocations and 373 suspensions in April. The large number of revocations during the month was due to the lapsing of taxicab bonds in New York city.

Revocations ordered during the last month included: Driving while intoxicated, 125; reckless driving, 8; speeding, 13; leaving scene of accident without giving name and address, 7; failure to file tax bonds, 666.

Pirate Manager Plans on Giants

To Give His Team a Race for the Pennant—McKechnie is Satisfied With His Team—Rhyme and Waner Big Help.

(By Davis J. Walsh)

New York, June 8.—The writer today asked Bill McKechnie, Pirate manager, to name the best club he had seen to date, bairling his own, and his reply was characteristic, if a trifle ambiguous. William said he hadn't seen the second best National League club, as yet, but expected to rectify the matter when he reached the Polo Grounds with the Pirates late next week.

This will be interesting to the boys in Cincinnati and Chicago, who have seen their teams begin to run themselves flat-footed with their pace-setting since the opening of the season, and to the addicts in St. Louis, who recently abandoned the idea of ending it all in the Mississippi when the Cardinals started to click with adequate regularity. All of them, with one exception, can roll their hoop down another alley, according to McKechnie.

"The Giants are the club we will have to beat," he declared. "Of course, I saw them in Pittsburgh on their last western trip but that wasn't the club that is playing smart baseball for McGraw, now. They have been moving right ahead for several weeks and will be back with the pace, sooner or later. We have seen no reason to figure any other club seriously."

Incidentally, Bill says he is a stand-patter, regardless of reports that he is trying to trade George Grantham and Eddie Moore to the Boston Braves for Dick Barrus. He hissed the idea down with these few, well chosen words:

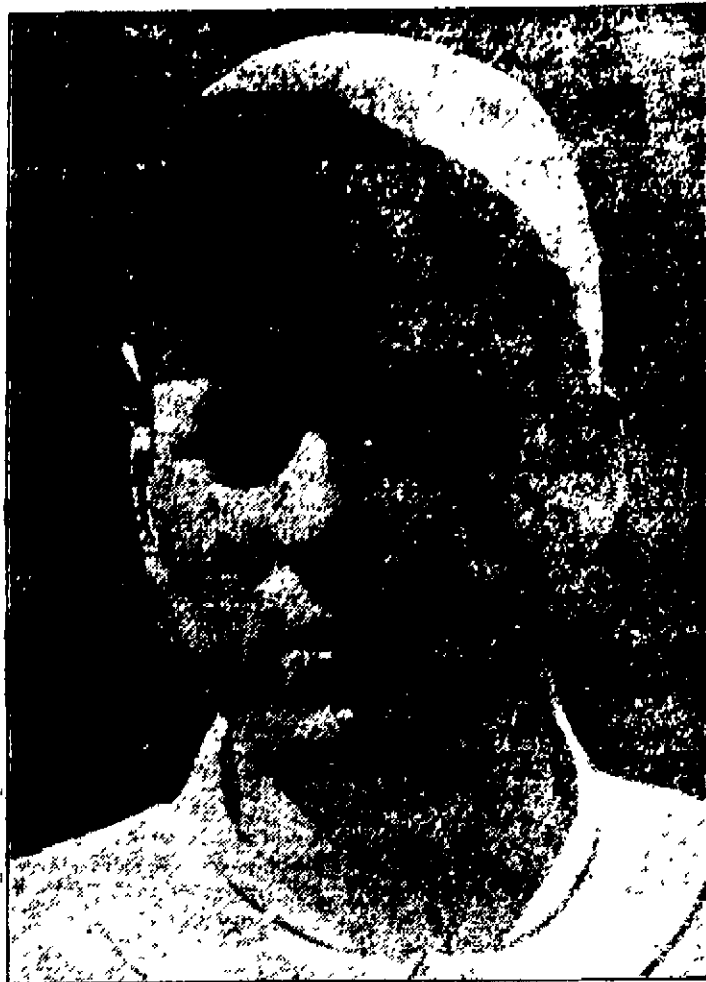

"I have seen no one, offered to trade no one and desire to do business with no one. I'm tired of having outsiders try to conduct my affairs. I have a good ball club and happen to be aware of the fact. I'd be a sap to start experimenting with a good thing."

Yes, McKechnie is satisfied with his ball club and not without reason. In spite of his remark, he has had to do some rather radical experimenting this spring with a world's championship outfit, because neither Moore nor Barnhart was able to hit the ground with his hat and Max Carey was ill and still is, for that matter.

He said he left Carey in Pittsburgh, suffering from sinus trouble and hadn't the slightest idea when the great outfielder would play again.

Meantime, he has been very fortunate or very smart in lining up a pair like Hal Rhyme and Paul Waner, the San Francisco recruits. They have been fitted into the lineup like a hook

Cardinals' Shortstop Will Be Here Sunday

TOMMY THEVENOW.

Tommy Thevenow, the remarkable shortstop of the St. Louis Cardinals who will appear at the Polo Grounds next Sunday will probably see action with this club for many years to come. He appeared in fifty games at shortstop for the Cardinals last season after graduating from the Syracuse club of the International League.

Thevenow first attracted the attention of the St. Louis club in 1923 while playing shortstop for the John Mc. club. He was only a strapping boy and lacked weight but was a sensational fielder and was purchased and sent to the Syracuse club for more seasoning. In need of a shortstop, Hornsby decided to bring in Thevenow from Syracuse a year and a half later. Then he was a great fielder but a weak hitter. After joining the Cardinals, however, he surprised his team mates by hitting with considerable regularity.

Helen Wills Doing Nicely.

Paris, June 8.—Helen Wills, the American tennis star who underwent an operation for appendicitis last week, was "doing nicely" this morning. Her physician said she had spent a comfortable night.

Into an eye and the gent who conceived the idea of paying serious money for them while the Pirates were winning a world title last fall was silly like a slicker.

The addition of this pair just about made the Pirates fool-proof.

Tetley Awarded Numerals.

James Wilbur Tetley of 29 Pearl street has been awarded his numerals in Freshman basketball by the Athletic Council of Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn. He is a member of the Chi Psi Fraternity. He also served as captain of the Freshman football team. Mr. Tetley is a son of the Rev. J. Wilbur Tetley, pastor of the St. James M. E. Church.

"Aw, Judge," whines the Chicagoan, "that was my first murder in a week."

U. & D. Takes Short Game

A thunder shower ended the Industrial Baseball League game at the Athletic Field Monday evening. The Uster & Delaware Railroad team was ahead at the time, 3-4, and they will get credit for a win.

Leskie and D. Hornbeck played the leading roles in the batting line, getting two healthy clouts, which went for home runs. Leskie got his when the bases were loaded.

The U. & D. team got one run in the first inning and went way ahead in the second when they put five runs across the rubber. In the third they tallied two more on Long's walk and D. Hornbeck's circuit drive.

Schillings scored their four runs in the third inning. Hicks was walked to start the inning. Noonan and Weeks struck out, and Van Buren got a two bagger to right field. Connolly drove in Hicks and Van Buren when he drove one over third base. Didzik walked. Connolly and Didzik pulled a double steal and scored on Leskie's error. Smedes ended their rally by throwing Scheffel out at second.

Smith Will Hurl Against St. Louis

Art Smith, the Colonials' collegian twirler will work against the St. Louis Cardinals next Sunday. Also the players who saw action in the Flushing match will again be on hand against the big leaguers.

Hugh McTague had a talk with the players following Sunday's game and all are certain to be on hand and it is probable that following the Cardinal match they will be secured for the season. Johnnie Murray who was on hand Sunday but did not work will not join the team again.

Brown and McTague are after Freddie Spatz of Albany, who has seen service with Albany of Eastern League, to join the twirling staff. Spatz was here with Plainsfield two weeks ago but was not used that game. It is not expected that Clyde Russell will be with the team again as his work in Albany makes it impossible for him to get away.

Emil Beal of Poughkeepsie has been secured by the local management to act as umpire-in-chief at the game Sunday.

Tagging Major League Bases

The Indians made it two out of three, scalping the Yankees, 5 to 2, in the last game of the series. Uble outpitched Shocker and batted in two runs in the bargain.

Connie Mack gave Walberg a chance and the rube obliged with a 7 to 2 victory over the Browns. Simmons' ninth homer of the season dislodged Gaston and put the game on ice.

The White Sox overcame a four-run lead and thrashed Boston, 10 to 5, advancing to third place. The Red Sox knocked Thomas off the rubber in the first inning but got only four hits off Edwards, who finished the game.

Walter Johnson dropped a tough one to the Tigers, 1 to 0. The big train yielded only four hits but the Senators made only five blunders off Ed Wells, pitching for the Bengals.

Rain washed away all four games in the National League.

HEARING POSTPONED ON DEMPSEY-WILLS AFFAIR

New York, June 8.—Discreet silence was maintained today while both sides of the controversy waited for next Tuesday to disclose the fate of the Dempsey-Wills-Tunney situation. Tex Rickard was expected to go before the State Athletic Commission this afternoon to make known his plans for a heavyweight championship bout this summer but was notified that a full commission could not be present today. His reply was that he would be too busy on Thursday with details of the Berlenbach-Stirling match to attend the meeting then and that the entire matter would have to go over until next week.

Some, however, claimed that the show-down would not come until June 22, the dead line set by the board to sign for a Wills match or suffer the consequences. It is believed the champion will prefer the latter course, in which case it will be up to Jim Farley, chairman of the commission, to make good his threat to have Rickard's license revoked in the event that he attempts to take the proposed Dempsey-Tunney match to another state.

VICTORY EAGLES BEAT THE BLUEBIRDS 14-5

Sunday evening at the Athletic field the Victory Eagles avenged the defeat of the afternoon by swamping the Bluebirds 14-5. The Eagle sluggers slammed the ball to all corners of the field. After Minasian had been knocked out of the box, Schline took up the pitching burden. He pitched all right until Flacher slammed a home run drive to deep center. A few minutes later the bases were full as Jordan of the Eagles hit another homer.

The battery for the losers was Schline and Minasian, p. Melville, c. The Eagles lined up in the following order: H. Houghtaling, s.; Flacher, cf.; Jordan, 2b.; Mathews, p.; Gorman, lf.; J. Houghtaling, c.; Murphy, rf.; Gill, 3b.; Friess, 1b. The Eagles would like to hear from some out of town teams. Any one wishing a game with the Eagles should write J. Houghtaling, 175 Hasbrouck avenue.

COMMISSION WILL HEAR OF MORGAN-SULLIVAN BOUT

New York, June 8.—Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion; his recent challenger, Steve (Kid) Sullivan, and those connected with last week's title bout, including the referee, judges and seconds, have been summoned before the State Athletic Commission to explain the unsatisfactory ending of the match. They will appear before the board either this afternoon or Thursday, it was said.

Conclusion of the bout was expressed after Paddy Roche, Sullivan's manager, demurely with the abrupt ager, threw in a towel in the sixth round while Sullivan still was on his feet and apparently ready to continue.

Bad Collection in Town.

Bernard Collection, a member of the pitching staff of the Pittsburgh National League team, was in town Monday. Bad luck attended the rainy day, when the game between the Pirates and Brooklyn team at Brooklyn was called off. Collection is in fine physical condition and is prepared for a hard season, when real baseball weather sets in. He is expected to Brooklyn this morning to join his team mates.

Fast Bouts at Elks' Smoker

The boxing bouts staged at the Elks' Home Monday evening were enjoyed by a large number of local boxing enthusiasts. There were five bouts, all of which were very interesting.

The Fishers were in the majority, Charlie mixing it up with Joe Warner; Johnny opposing Frenchy De Wig and George vs. Sarkles. The two other bouts were between Turk Kelly and Vince Hart and Vince Coffey and Eddie Houlihan. All the bouts lasted the scheduled six rounds.

The Fisher-Warner and Kelly-Hart bouts were the best on the program. In these affairs the boys fought for all they were worth, resulting in fast and furious exhibitions.

It was announced that part of the proceeds would be donated toward the Kingston City Hospital building fund, the remainder going to the Elks' benefit fund.

PAUL BERLENBACH AND STIRLING FINISH TRAINING

New York, June 8.—With their light heavyweight championship meeting scheduled for the Yankee Stadium two days hence, Paul Berlenbach and Young Stirling will conclude intensive training for the bout this afternoon with light workouts. Berlenbach weighed 177 pounds at his Summit, N. J., training camp this morning and will be ready to make 175 pounds at two o'clock Thursday afternoon without trouble. The class limit will be just as easy for Stirling.

The latter, remaining a steady favorite at short odds, will step a few rounds with Jack Warren, Lee Anderson and Benny Touchstone at an up-town gymnasium and then will confine himself to light exercises in the interval before the bout.

Stirling's speed and strength were the factors that have served to install him favorite over the hitting power and dogged endurance of the champion.

Many, however, expressed confidence that Berlenbach would win by a knockout inside the limit of fifteen rounds.

DEFENDANTS IN OSAGE

CASES CHARGE THIRD DEGREE.

Washington, June 8.—Charges that third degree methods were used by department of justice agents in trying to secure confessions in the Osage Indian murder cases in Oklahoma, were denounced today by Assistant Attorney General Oscar Luning as "false and ridiculous."

The charges were made by W. K. Hale and John Ramsey, both of whom were indicted, on the witness stand in Pawhuska, Okla., yesterday. They said they had been subjected to "electrical treatment" by federal agents in an effort to force confessions.

"Those stories are untrue and ridiculous," said Luning.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 8.—A vigorous forward swing in industrial stocks today failed to "carry through," with the exception of a small selected group of speculative favorites which received the benefit of pool support.

Announcement that the Treasury Department was strongly enough entrenched financially to omit the regular quarterly note offerings for the first time since the armistice provided the bulls with the ammunition they apparently lacked to inaugurate their rally in stock prices. Stocks were strong and vigorous at the beginning of trading, with sales of about 600,000 shares in the first hour. But profit taking swept over the market in the third and fourth hours, wiping out all the gains in many stocks, and sending others below Monday's closing.

Special moves in a number of the industrial and motor stocks gained momentum in the late trading, due to the vigorous work of the pools and other factors. International Combustion Engineering was the most active stock on the board and an enormous volume of trading took place at 55. Pierce Arrow preferred advanced 5 points to 97. American Safety Razor, Gotham Hosiery and East Iron Pipe sold actively at higher prices.

The market developed an irregular trend after the second hour.

YALE STUDENT THOUGHT

COMES WERE HOLD-UP MEN.

New Haven, Conn., June 8.—Karl H. Kostenbader, about to receive a graduate degree from Yale, thought two plain clothes policemen were hold-up men when they approached him here last evening, and fled. The police chased him, firing their revolvers in the air, for several blocks until the youth ran into the arms of a patrolling policeman who jumped on him from a doorway.

Kostenbader was locked up most of the night after his escape and today in city court and his case continued for further investigation. Meanwhile he refused to tell court officials what he was doing in a yard where the policemen first found him and for that reason his case was continued for investigation.

Pending his graduation late this month, Kostenbader has been an assistant instructor in the graduate school where he has worked for his degree.

SPEARS RECOVERS FROM RATTLESNAKE BITE.

Ithaca, N. Y., June 8.—Leonard M. Spear, 28-year-old Ithaca business man, bitten on the right arm by a diamond-back rattlesnake at Cornell University on May 28, was discharged from the city hospital today. He has fully recovered from the effects of the poison but will not have the full use of his arm for several months.

Spear, struck twice in the wrist by the snake, which was caged in the zoological department at the university, did not at first realize that he had been injured and it was not until sometime later when his arm began to swell and pain that he went to a physician who had him removed to the hospital.

Because the only available serum in the city was lost when the container was broken, a telephone call was sent to the New York Zoological Gardens for a supply. Dr. R. L. Dilmars, of the zoo, appeared, sent two phials by train to Syracuse and two others by train direct to Ithaca.

The consignment sent to Syracuse was rushed to this city by automobile, the drive of 56 miles being made in 67 minutes by a local taxi driver. Prompt use of the serum was responsible for saving Spear's life.

JUDGE BODINE HEARS RADIO PATENT SUIT.

Trenton, N. J., June 8.—A radio patent suit, involving millions of dollars, went to trial here today before Judge Bodine in the federal district court.

The action was brought by the Radio Corporation of America, of Delaware, and the General Electric Company of New York, against the Spiltford Electrical Company.

The plaintiffs maintain that they hold exclusive patent rights on the tuning system now in general use on radio sets. It is contended that the patent rights of the device were sold to the General Electric Company and that the latter firm licensed the Radio Corporation of America to make and sell the invention.

No specific sum is demanded in the suit but an accounting of profits on all of the alleged patented devices sold by the defendant is requested.

The Spiltford Company declared that the instrument involved was in popular use before the device patented by the inventor of the "General Electric" Company's was perfected.

There will be two first prizes, two beautiful loving cups, one for the lady residing in Kingston who is selected as the Kingston Venus and a cup for the winner who resides outside of Kingston.

A committee of judges will be selected to pass on the entries. Both face and figure will be taken in consideration. The contest will be conducted in a high class manner and it is hoped this campaign will do as much good here as it does in other towns. Names may be entered with manager as early as possible.

11 HURT IN MUNICIPAL RECREATION PIER FIRE.

New York, June 8.—After a stubborn fight lasting fifteen hours, flames early today extinguished the blaze under the Municipal Recreation Pier which followed a series of explosions in manholes throughout Harlem. Eleven persons were injured, one seriously, when struck by bits of flying metal. The entire district was rocked and the blasts were heard for miles.

Police and fire officials said today that the ignition of an accumulation of sewer gas was responsible for the explosions.

Crown Prince Gustavus Adolphus attended the spectacle. He was returning from West Point on J. P. Morgan's yacht, the Cornelia.

ent at the breakfast, and gave a special blessing to the young couple. After receiving the congratulations of their friends the bride couple left by auto for Atlantic City and other points of interest and upon their return will reside at 51 Rosemont avenue, Kingston, where a newly furnished home awaits them. The bride is one of the most popular members of the present set and the groom is ranked high in Kingston Lodge of Elks, No. 549. The gifts were numerous and beautiful. The groom presented the bride with a beautiful pair of pearls which she wore on her wedding day. Guests were present from Chicago, Syracuse, Albany, Saratoga, Jersey, New York and Kingston.

Tailored Suit in Vogue for Spring

Outfit Is Now a Classic in Attire for Women Who Are Particular.

Fashions for spring in America this year are most interesting. There are many new ideas, important revivals and adaptations of former styles to the taste and requirements of today, and, most significant of all, writes a fashion authority in the New York Times, a fine sense of restraint and proportion evident in the designs by American artists for American women. The art of the world, the best in line, color and fabric from the fashion centers of Europe, are finding expression in the new models. There are fewer eccentricities, little that is startling, and the general tone of dress in all its phases is one of refinement. There is so much of beauty, of grace, and in some examples of distinction, that the whole aspect of our American styles this season is one of intriguing attraction to women and of interest to men and to all students of modern social life.

The tailored suit, which has come to be regarded as an American institution and is now a classic, so to speak, is the very first consideration in the equipment for spring. It is the response to climate and season and to the preference for that well-groomed appearance which is close to the heart of the American woman. Year after year, the tailored suit holds its own esteemed place. Repeated effort has been made to replace this type of street costume with the one-piece coat frock and dress of lighter material to be worn under a wrap. These have been until lately the prevailing styles for several seasons, making a very demodée the old-time tailored suit which was adapted to the stiffly corsetted figure, with the curved waistline a point of great importance in the silhouette. This was the Parisian idea translated in terms to suit the American woman of fashion and having an enormous vogue on this side.

Gown and Wrap Fashion. With the acceptance of crepes and voiles and light-weight silks, the fashion of wearing a gown and a wrap, in ensemble or separately has been almost universal. Only occasional individual preference has been expressed in an up-to-date version of the tailored suit. The crepe de chine, taffeta, satin or voile dress worn under a fur coat or one of cloth as the season advances is still considered correct, and is gratefully acknowledged for its comfort and convenience. When the wrap becomes burdensome, a scarf or fur piece somehow is insufficient with the gown alone. Some women find the coat suit, which has been given fresh popularity this season, too difficult of adaptation to the varying moods of our climate in early spring. When the wind is cold and raw, a fur piece is not sufficient additional protection; and when the sun suddenly blazes out the heat is intolerable.

So the tailored suit has reappeared in ultra-modern variants as the distinctive novelty of the season. Its acceptance will not be universal, and it will not take the place of the one-piece, the jumper and the modish ensemble, but it will be included in the wardrobe of many well-dressed women.

American fashions were never more definitely individual than they are at the moment. The first declaration of independence from them from the French designs which are important, but not accurately to be followed blindly. Fashion creators are loath to be so authoritative and are now on over the source of inspiration of the best we have in dress.

But American women of fashion no longer mark the comment that they follow the leader. Much thought and care are given to the study of dress; the lady is keenly interested in fabric and dyes; and the designer on artistic results are achieved by American makers. The season's latest word display the latest variants of kasha, wool crepe, tweed, rep, covert and frasca, the rage of the season.

For sports clothes, these wool fabrics are the happiest medium conceivable. In the jumper suit—skirt and jacket with tunic blouse—the favorite skirt mode is plaited; more successfully done in these finer weaves than in the older style cloths. The Rodier fabrics and flannel are very fashionable, two materials being combined in some of the newest models. For example, a charming little ensemble copied from a French model is a symphony in gray and yellow. The skirt attached to a slip lining has a deep inverted plait in front. It is of gray worsted diagonal, with which is worn an over-blossom of pale gray crepe de chine made quite simple. The coat is a short military box model of canary flannel, the edges of which in the front, at the neck, and the wrists are embroidered in a geometric pattern with two shades of gray floss, pointed with silver colored metallic beads.

In the spring suits are shown many stylish models, one that is particularly well liked being that in which the coat and skirt contrast. Checks and plain goods are put together with chic effect, and a certain simplicity almost severe. An unassuming smart little outfit has a skirt of black and white checked wool, cut after a plain wrap-around design. The coat is of plain black with deep lapels, double-breasted with side pockets, and is worn over a simple tailored shirt of white crepe.

Navy Blue Kasha.

Another model is built of navy blue kasha for the straight short coat which fastens with but two buttons and completes the suit with a skirt of navy blue and white checked wool. Navy blue, which is having a wide vogue, is used for the coat of another model, with a circular skirt of pale gray flannel. A particularly smart model is all of one material, a tweed mixture which we have adopted with enthusiasm from the Scotch and English. In this the skirt has two large favored plaits, laid in the center front, and the same style of jacket—the straight, low-cut double-breasted which is exceedingly popular—is used.

Apart from the first tailored things—for street wear, for sports, in suits and coats—this season will be evident in silks and crepes and fine sheer materials. Taffeta has already been acknowledged as the sensation, and innumerable intriguing designs are being shown in this crisp, lustrous fabric in all of the new colors. Many models are, of course, inspired by creations from Paris, but others are the original designs of American artists. Very clever compositions are presented in which taffeta is combined with another material, either as trimming of for the main part of the frock, and the ruckling, which is now considered so effective as a finish, is usually made of taffeta.

Crepe is, if possible, more fashionable than ever, and its variations are almost without number. There is crepe de chine, and Roman, Etonette, Sat. Kelly O. Mid-O-Den, chambray crepe and printed crepe in countless patterns. These are all of the plain surface, the novelty being broadened crepe which has the pattern defined with a contrasting woven—tweed or silk, or vice versa, after the Chinese brocade. Pussy without silk and with carry on in new weaves and weights and will be popular, with the indestructible velvets, for early summer.

MOREHOUSE GIVES PLAN TO PROTECT PEOPLE FROM WILD-CAT PROMOTERS

American Bankers Association Official Who Has Exposed Fraudulent Schemes for Robbing Savers Draws Up Set of Rules to Foil Crooks.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE, Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association.

ARTICLE NO. IV

THE solution to the great problem of protecting savings depositors from losing their money in fraudulent schemes is largely in the hands of our bankers. If they will co-operate with those who save they can make it hard for these plunderers to continue business. Hasten the day when our bankers without exception will gladly welcome interviews with depositors who contemplate making investments, will urge an investigation or recommend in the stead of little-known securities investments of unquestioned responsibility. In every case where customers call at the bank excited and nervous over some scheme where by investing a few hundred dollars they expect to make thousands any banker will at once sense the situation.

The banker knows that the depositor is being rushed off his feet, with "Hurry, hurry and get in on the big clean-up!" and it remains for the banker to caution the depositor against such tactics. In order to prevent this all that our bankers have to do is to suggest that their customers make it a rule always to bring high-pressure salesmen to the bank to be interrogated regarding their promotions. This will break up sales also times out of ten, for high-pressure salesmen invariably avoid being questioned too closely by bankers who know investments.

Rules to Follow. Our bankers should urge this investment slogan: "Investigate before you invest. Consult your banker first." and so indelibly impress it on the minds of their depositors that they will always be guided by their banker's advice in making investments. Salient points which should be kept before the investing depositor are:

(1) There are three cardinal points to all good investments, namely safety of principal, certainty of income and salability.

(2) Safety of principal is more important than a high yield: the promise of big returns is usually a sign of a risky speculation.

(3) It is like taking a leap in the dark to invest in promotions which are an unknown quantity and for this reason a thorough investigation should always be made.

(4) It is morally wrong, if not criminally so, for any person to invest in any proposition he feels to be a shams, or which is tainted by trickery or fraud or opens the way for a favored few to "get in on the ground floor," close up and get out from under before the scheme collapses. Usually the depositor finds he is not in on the ground floor, there is no chance for him to close up before the scheme collapses and so he loses all that he has invested.

(5) If a promotion is as good as dead it would not be necessary for high-pressure salesmen to resort to all sorts of questionable methods. It would not be necessary to rush a victim off his feet and sign him up before he could interview his banker, but he could be given time to consult others before investing.

(6) The only reason high-pressure

grates go to those who are inexperienced in finance for funds is because they can palm off on them so-called investments which in the eyes of men of experience are valueless.

(7) The glib-talking promoter is not a true friend of the savings depositor, but is a wolf in sheep's clothing. He will resort to any kind of trickery to exchange a certificate of stock for the depositor's cash, his glittering promises are fictitious and he is planning how he can entrap his victims and relieve them of their savings, and not how he can make good dividends for them.

(8) For every oil well that pays dividends there are many dry holes and abandoned drilling rigs, and for every profitable mine there are many abandoned shafts, and for every successful promotion there are a thousand failures, and because of these facts the savings depositor's chance of winning is too small to justify the great risk involved.

(9) Savers should steer clear of stock shares or units in world-revolving investments which are peddled in front of empty stores or sold from house to house or through the mails.

(10) Every novice investor should remember that, as in all lines of business, black sheep have invaded the investment field. They must be shunned, while investment firms and salesmen of responsibility and integrity should be supported.

Let our banks unite in a movement designed to protect the depositor against the schemes of the wild-cat promoter—in a movement that will save our savings depositors from despair and from poverty as a result of having lost all—in a movement that will turn into legitimate investment channels the millions of dollars which are now wasted on fraudulent schemes of one kind or another. The best service a bank can render a depositor is to keep him from making poor investments by helping him to make good ones.

He's a Good Digger

The stink's not, for when we're washed clean, says Nature Magazine. The bird that shows its character in the mud, but the heron has been shown to be one of the best diggers among all the wild birds, compared only by the badger and the woodchuck.

Poetical Fancy

"Lo," applied to unscrupulous people, is the obsolete imperative of the verb "look," and the expression, "Lo, the poor Indian," has merely been adapted from Pope's "Essay on Man." It came: "Lo, the poor Indian whose unscrupulous mind once died in love and bears still in the wild."

Kills Pesky Bed-Bugs

Doctors declare that bed-bugs and other vermin are the most to be feared means of spreading such diseases as consumption, typhoid, cholera and other infectious diseases. There is no danger in getting bed-bugs in your house, because they can't be avoided. It is a disgrace to permit them to remain and thrive when it is so easy to get rid of them with the new chemical compound, P.D.Q., which quickly gets on and kills these pesky vermin.

A Million Bed-bugs. A recent package of this modern chemical will make a quart of a mixture that is so deadly to bed-bugs that it would kill a million of them if you could get that many together. Instantly a mother and her children, the living creatures, come their eggs and sleep their lives in peace and safety.

Cut This Out. Your druggist has P.D.Q. and will be glad to furnish it for 25 cents. One package makes a quart of the mixture and is enough to kill a million of bed-bugs. Don't accept a substitute. If your druggist hasn't P.D.Q. write Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind., enclosing your name and 25 cents and we will send you a package free of charge to your address.

Use Not Savings Goods. P.D.Q. will not injure delicate fabrics, clothing, carpets, furniture, bedding, etc.

Little Flies on Dogs. If your dog is bothered with pesky little P.D.Q. mixture in your hand and rub into the fur. Then wash the dog's nose. They will be dead before they hit the dog.

For Ants and Cockroaches. Ants and cockroaches stand no chance of surviving a treatment of P.D.Q. It erases them and their eggs with such force that it kills their whole generation.

P.D.Q. in Liquid Form. P.D.Q. can be purchased in sealed bottles double strength liquid form, with patent spray nozzle. P.D.Q. Liquid can be diluted to make a quart or it can be used pure.

P.D.Q. is available in two wide openings. Liquid form, ready for use and P.D.Q. in solid form. Each package makes one quart. Get P.D.Q. from your druggist today. The money that it saves you will pay for itself.
